MOLD MANUFACTURING

The success and precision of a product depend on the quality of its mold, but building a reliable, long-lasting mold requires Good design & engineering and requires a great deal of accuracy. At Revomac we are committed to the quality and finishing of the products manufactured from our machines and we understand the role mold plays to get a quality output.

MOLD DESIGNING

We design our mold using the Modern CAD system and use the finite element method to analyze structural strength. We develop the new mechanism and analyze multiple load cases, vibration analysis, stress analysis, thermal analysis, joints & geometry analysis using three-dimensional CAE.

QUALITY

We believe that great Companies are built on great quality products

Our company strategy is based on a deep understanding of our customers' needs. We understand that REVOMAC customer wants high-quality machines and good service and this is what quality means to us.
